A BILL

Supporting the Clean-Air Act and opposing the Traxler-Hillis Bill,
H.R. 4.400.

BILL HISTORY

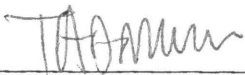

The Clean-Air Act expired October 1st of this year. A Lou Harris Poll shows that over 80% of the American Public support either maintaining or strengthening the Clean Air Act. The present administration supports the Traxler-Hillis bill, advocates the doubling of current CO emission standards and the relaxation of NO<sub>x</sub> and particulate standards. Denver already exceeds public health standards for CO emissions on 1 of every three days. Acid rain in the Rocky Mountains exists and needs to be diminished. We believe that the administration's proposals pose a threat to public health and environment in Colorado
