BILL HISTORY

The Middle East Peace Coalition is a broad-based, bipartisan student organization dedicated to increasing student knowledge and understanding of the complex issues confronting the Middle East. In order to achieve that end, MEPC has organized a week-long series of programming. Sponsoring groups include Israel Public Affairs, Campus Democrats, College Republicans, International Relations Forum, World Citizens, and Students Toward a New Direction.

BILL SUMMARY

This Bill proposes the expenditure of $2,823 for funding the events of the Middle East Peace Week, scheduled March 30 through April 5, 1987, and to provide advertising for the week. Included in MEPW will be films, panels, speakers and events presenting a wide range of views on problems and solutions of the Middle East.

BE IT ENACTED by the Executive Council of the University of Colorado Student Union, THAT:

SECTION 1: UCSU shall allocate no more than $2,865.62 including GAR from Central Reserve for the funding of Middle East Peace Week, scheduled March 30 through April 5, 1987.

SECTION 2: The events to be funded, as well as a complete breakdown of advertising costs, are as follows: (Please see attached.)

SECTION 3: A written report about the event shall be submitted pursuant to the provisions of 24 ECB #4. Failure to do so will prohibit future funding to this group by the UCSU Executive Council.

SECTION 4: This Bill takes effect upon passage.

2ND ANNUAL
MIDDLE EAST PEACE WEEK
MARCH 30 TO APRIL 5, 1987
UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO, BOULDER

The Middle East Peace Coalition invites you to attend the second annual Middle East Peace Week. This week is scheduled for March 30 through April 5, 1987 at the University of Colorado, Boulder campus. The coalition, a broad based student organization, has designed a week long series of lectures, films, discussions, and workshops featuring speakers of local, national, and international stature.

The objective of the Middle East Peace Coalition is to raise the awareness level of the college community to the issues confronting the Middle East. We feel that it is vital for today's political leaders and especially today's college youth to become more conscious of the different political systems and cultures.

In light of the present state of affairs in the Middle East, we feel that there is a pressing need for dialogue between Arabs and Israelis. Their common historical bonds inextricably link these two cultures. The United States' ties to both the state of Israel and the Arab world compel us to explore the possibilities for peace in the Middle East.

We are of the belief that the university is a microcosm of the problems which our nation and world face. It is here that a model for a true and lasting peace in the Middle East can begin. The Middle East Peace Coalition is a forum which endorses the following principles:

- 1) Acceptance of the sovereignty, territorial integrity, and political independence of every state in the area.
- 2) Israel's right to exist as a state within secure and recognized boundaries.
- 3) Recognition of the legitimate rights ~~to the~~ Palestinian people.
- 4) Cessation of all terrorist activities, threats, and acts of aggression by all involved parties.

Last year the Coalition had the privilege of hosting Dan Paltai, former spokesman for Israeli Prime Ministers Begin and Rabin; Farouk Helmy, Minister of the Egyptian Embassy, Washington, D.C.; Asher Naim, Minister of the Israeli Embassy, Washington, D.C.; Mark Rosenbloom, National Coordinator of Peace Now; and a number of distinguished local speakers.

This year we have extended invitations to Raouf El Reedy, Egyptian Ambassador to the U.S.; Meir Rossene, Israeli Ambassador to the U.S.; Khalil Jashan, Assistant Director of the Palestinian Research and Education Center, Washington, D.C.; an Israeli representative to the U.N.; a representative of the Palestinian Human Rights Campaign, Chicago; and several local speakers.

In addition, Middle East Peace Coalition has planned on hosting an ancillary event in cooperation with the Conference of World Affairs scheduled for April 6-12, 1987.

We hope that you will join us in this genuine effort at understanding and contributing to the Middle East Peace Process. Looking forward to seeing you at the week. For more information please call 444-5284.

Sincerely, THE MIDDLE EAST PEACE COALITION
