BILL HISTORY

The Business School Leadership Council is an organization to promote a higher level of awareness about organizations by College of Business, to encourage greater participation in such organizations, and ultimately to make their activities available to non-affiliated students. The "Business After Hours" reception is modeled after local area Chamber of Commerce "Business After Hours" functions. The purpose is to allow students to interact with local area business and expand awareness of student-available resources. With a high attendance of the Chamber of Commerce "Business After Hours," the Leadership Council, with the backing of the Denver and Boulder Chambers of Commerce, will also establish a high attendance rate. Attendance by business people is expected to be about 250. In order for Leadership Council, in conjunction with the College of Business, Dean Johnson and all Business School student groups, to successfully initiate the first annual Business School After Hours, further budget costs need to be covered. All costs have been extensively researched and kept within reason, while still providing a first-class memorable function.
