A BILL

BILL HISTORY

On November 22, 1986 the venerable Demon Deacons of the Wake Forest University football team defeated the mighty Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets 24-21, sending the awe-inspiring Golden Buffaloes of the University of Colorado to the Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston on Dec. 31. National recognition at a University via the athletic talents of its students and staff reflects positively on the institution in many ways. Athletic success can result in improvement of a University's public image, which is wide spread. Alumni donations, state legislature funding, increase in applications for undergraduate admission, and an overall increase in public support can be a direct result of intercollegiate prowess. In following with the success of our football team, it is only appropriate that, as representatives of the student body, we express our appreciation for the students at Wake Forest for granting our dream of a second consecutive bowl game.
