A RESOLUTION

- WHEREAS: Regardless of whether one agrees or disagrees with the events which took place on November 17, 1986, all citizens have the right to freedom of speech and dissent under the Constitution; and,
- WHEREAS: The protesters' actions were political in nature and therefore the outcome of the administration's disciplinary procedure has definite political ramifications; and,
- WHEREAS: Those political ramifications have the effect of repressing political expression by students on this campus; and,
- WHEREAS: The sanctions that were imposed by the Director of the Office of Student Conduct were extreme and injurious to the exchange of ideas at this institution of higher learning,

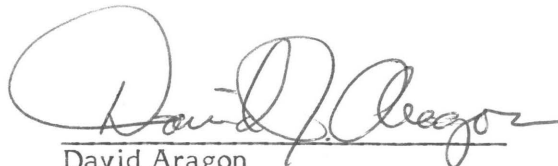

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Executive Council of the University of Colorado Student Union, THAT:

- SECTION 1: The one-year suspension and banishment from campus of seven students be revoked by the Student Disciplinary Review Committee.
- SECTION 2: This Resolution takes effect upon passage.
