A BILL

BILL HISTORY

In 1985 the Free South Africa Committee (FSAC) was formed at CU to address the problems of apartheid in South Africa. In 1988 the FSAC became more active and influenced Regent Bernick to draft a proposal to "divest" CU's funds from companies doing business in South Africa. This was voted on at the March 17, 1988 Regents' meeting and was defeated by a margin of 8 to 1. As a result, CU's money is still supporting a segregationist government in South Africa. Earlier this year the FSAC organized a rally which focused upon racism in the US and apartheid policies in the Republic of South Africa.

The Free South Africa Committee organized a benefit at Tulagi's on Jan. 18, 1989 with the Samples and Big Springs. The FSAC raised $1400.00. Another benefit was tentatively scheduled during February at JJ McCabes (raising approx. $500 - $800) but due to various scheduling conflicts this event will probably be canceled. In November the FSAC submitted a 12 page proposal to the CU CEB and was denied any funding for the Apartheid Awareness Week.

Apartheid basically means "separateness" of South Africa's four major racial groups: Blacks, Whites, Asians and Coloureds. The black majority, approximately 87% of the population, are forced to live on Bantustans, supposed independent homelands, which are in reality rural ghettos comprising only 13% of the land. They are not able to vote, own property, travel freely and work in the country of their birth. The white minority, approximately 13% of the population, own most businesses, control 87% of the land, and as of 1985 were the richest cultural group in the world.

The Free South Africa Committee plans, by sponsoring an "Apartheid Awareness Week", to educate the public about the issues concerning racial inequality both home and abroad. Workshops, films, discussions, and debates, focusing on apartheid in South Africa and racism in the US, will provide an indepth view of these social problems. This event is not addressing "divestment" in general, but will explore all options that will alleviate these racial inequalities and whether divestment is a viable method.

The FSAC has continued its educational goals and feels that a week long series of events will bring these issues out into the open, to be discussed in public forum, on the magnitude that their critical nature merits.
