BILL HISTORY

The United Nations Week was a highly successful program at the University of Colorado between 1948 and 1962. Student group organizers are seeking to revive the event this year in order to increase student participation in global issues. With the recent growth in the popularity of the International Affairs program at C.U., and the everpresent need for University wide interaction on these issues, the U.N. Week will be serving the diverse interests of the student population.

Through the process of participating in the U.N. Week, students will gain valuable leadership and organizational skills, while bringing to gether varied student groups and government, the University Administration, and other University programs such as the World Affairs Conference. The organizations who are participating include the Environmental Center, International Relations Forum, C.U. World Citizens, the Speech and Debate Team, Middle East Peace Coalition, KUCB, Campus Democrats, Campus Women's Organization, AIESEC, Service Civil International, STAND, Peace Corps, Pre-Law Club, C.U. Space Interest group, Arts and Sciences Student Government, American Movement for Israel, Russian Club and the AIDS Task Force.
