A BILL

BILL HISTORY

Graduate students at the University of Colorado who are teaching assistants (TAs), graduate part-time instructors (GPTIs), graduate assistants (GAs), and research assistants (RAs) do not currently receive employee benefits such as health insurance, dental insurance, eye care, or life insurance.

TAs, GPTIs, GAs, and RAs of the University of Colorado have difficulties affording these types of services. The minimum salary of a TA or RA is $8,684 for the 1990-1991 academic year (9 months) at 50% time. The minimum salary of a GPTI is $10,479 for the 1990-1991 academic year (9 months) at 50% time.

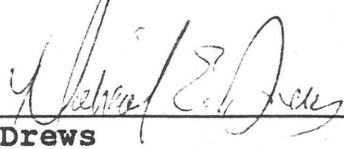

BILL SUMMARY

BE IT ENACTED by the Legislative Council of the University of Colorado Student Union, THAT:

The following referendum question be placed on the November 1990 student ballot:

Should the University of Colorado provide paid employee benefits such as health insurance, dental insurance, eyecare or life insurance, comparable to full time University staff, to all teaching assistants, graduate part-time teaching instructors, graduate assistants, and research assistants?
