A BILL

BILL HISTORY

The University of Colorado Federal Credit Union Student Advisory Committee is a new student organization resulting from the merger of the University of Colorado Credit Union and the University of Colorado Boulder Student Federal Credit Union. It is an organization that acts as a liaison between the students at the University of Colorado and the University of Colorado Federal Credit Union. Members of the committee sit in on and play an active role in departmental meetings at the University of Colorado Federal Credit Union. Specific areas include Financial Planning, Marketing, Investment and Supervisory (accounting).

In April, the Colorado Credit Union League will be having its 58th Annual Meeting and Convention in Colorado Springs. This conference is aimed at defining the financial opportunities available to credit unions as a non-profit alternative to banks. Some issues to be presented include Doing Business in the year 2,000, Marketing Plans of Credit Unions and Income Sources of Credit Unions. Attendees include management and volunteers from credit unions throughout the state and Representatives from the Credit Union League and the Credit Union National Association (CUNA). This conference will give members of the SAC contacts with important credit union management, perspective on the future of credit unions and ideas for improving the University of Colorado Federal Credit Union and the SAC itself.
