A Bill to Amend the Constitution to Redefine the Student Health Board

Bill History

In the course of evaluating the structure of the Wardenburg Health Center, it was determined that the current governance of Wardenburg should be amended to create a University advisory board to be known as the Student Health Advisory Commission to provide the oversight of the operations and budget of the Wardenburg Health Center, student health fees, and the student health insurance programs that the CUSG has historically performed. The Commission will be made up of an equal number of student and University administration representatives. No later than July 1, 2012 the University and CUSG will enter into a memorandum of understanding to establish the Commission.

This bill provides for a student vote to amend the Constitution to transition the existing Student Health Board, a joint board, to an advisory board to continue to provide student input on student health and wellness issues, including, but not limited to, operations of the Wardenburg Health Center, student health fees, and student health insurance programs.
